

Ken Timmerman is a nationally recognized investigative reporter and war correspondent who was nominated for the Nobel Peace prize in 2006 for the work he has done to expose Iran's nuclear weapons program. Prominently featured in the documentary, "Iranium," Ken is one of the half-dozen true experts on the Islamic Republic of Iran in the U.S. today. Since 1995, he has run the Foundation for Democracy in Iran

(iran.org) and regularly meets with Iranian dissidents overseas. He lectured on Iran at the Pentagon's Joint Counter-Intelligence Training Academy, JCITA, from 2010-2016.

From 2004-2011, Ken was the lead outside investigator for a consortium of law firms representing the families of 9/11 victims. Based on eyewitness testimony Ken elicited from Iranian defectors, a federal district court judge ruled in December 2011 that Iran "shared responsibility" with al Qaeda for the 9/11 terrorist attacks and awarded the victims a $6 billion civil judgment.

In 2012, he was the Republican nominee for Congress in Maryland's 8th District, where he was endorsed by Ambassador John Bolton, former CIA Director R. James Woolsey, Citizens United, and veterans and tea party groups. That experience gave birth to The Election Heist, a political thriller about the stealing of the 2020 election.

Ken is also a witness to the persecuted church. His 2018 novel, ISIS BEGINS: a novel of the Iraq war, is based on many trips to Mosul, the Nineveh Plain, and Amman, Jordan.

For the past forty years, Ken has covered both sides of the Arab-Israeli conflict, interviewing radical imams and would-be suicide bombers in Gaza, while reporting on the plight of Israeli citizens during the 2006 Hezbollah war. As a young reporter in 1982, he was taken hostage by Palestinian guerilla fighters in West Beirut where he was born again to his Christian faith. He relates that and much more in a new book, And the Rest is History: Tales of Hostages, Arms Dealers, Dirty Tricks, and Spies.

Famed Nazi-hunter Simon Wiesenthal said of Ken, "I have spent my life tracking the murderer's of yesterday. Mr. Timmerman is tracking the murderers of tomorrow."

During the 2016 election campaign, he served on the National Security and Foreign Policy Advisory Board of Trump for President. He is an active public speaker.

kentimmerman@comcast.net

www.kentimmerman.com